MRS. MARIA CHAPPELL 99.

Members of Family Attend Birthday Celebration Wednesday.

Mrs. Maria Chappell, mother of H. R. Chappell of this city, who lived with her husband in South Windham for over forty years at one period of her life, reached the age of 99 Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chappell were present on the birthday celebration, leaving her Wednesday morning for Seekonk, Mass., where Mrs. Maria Chappell has lived for the past twenty-five years with her daughter, Mrs. Frank West. Mrs. Chappell is said to be well preserved and in excellent health for one of her years.

Niece, Not Wife of James Walden, Dead.

At the time of the announcement of the death of Hattie M. Walden at Orange City, Fla., which appeared in Monday's Bulletin, it was understood that she was the wife of James Walden, a former resident of this city, and that time inquiries have developed the fact that Mr. Walden's wife's name is not Hattie M., and the Hattie M. referred to is a niece of his, the daughter of Mr. Walden's brother, who lived at one time on a farm on Liberty Hill. She was never a resident of this city, but her sister, Ella, now in Florida, received from Ella Walden a few weeks ago by friends in Willimantic spoke of the fact that her sister, Hattie M., who had been in poor health for some time, was gradually failing, and she is undoubtedly the Hattie M. Walden whose death has been reported.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Lucy B. Hull.
 Mrs. Lucy B. Hull, widow of Hial Hull, who was found dead in bed Tuesday morning about 6:30 o'clock, was 80 years of age, a native of Griswold, and a daughter of John and Sally (Lebanon) Hawkins. She resided in Lebanon after marriage until the death of her husband, after which she moved to Willimantic. She is survived by Mrs. Hull leaves besides her daughter, Emma S. Hull, a son, Frank E.

A Message To Thin, Weak, Scrawny People

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say: "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good nourishing food. The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs disintegrate the food into its elements, your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste."

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the food and fats and send them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues, and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh built up by the use of Sargol, the recently discovered assimilative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad, is to take Sargol in connection with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and how rosy and healthy they become. Sargol covers your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Lee & Osgood and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesalers, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution: While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain weight, pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh builder.

Hull, of Baltic, two grandchildren, Mrs. J. Seaside Light of Southbury and John L. Hull of Schenectady, and one great-grandchild, John Seaside Light. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Reynolds of Willimantic and Mrs. G. E. Bentley of Norwich, and two brothers, John C. Hawkins of Jewett City and Alexander S. Hawkins of Coventry.

No Improvement in Condition of Amadee Beauregard.

Amadee Beauregard, whose back was broken by the weight of bags of flour which fell upon him while at work in Blanchette and Hoffman's bakery a week ago Tuesday night, is reported at St. Joseph's hospital to which he was carried, as showing no improvement whatever. He continues in a serious condition.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS CHANGE

Thomas F. Waugh Succeeded by John Lawrence Hurley of Malden, Mass.

The regular monthly meeting of the school committee was held Wednesday night in the town building with six in attendance. The session was held in the patrolmen's room of the police station, as the janitor of the building was ill and the selectmen's room was therefore not available.

The resignation of Thomas F. Waugh as teacher of mathematics in the High School was accepted, and John Lawrence Hurley of Malden, Mass., was engaged in his stead. Mr. Hurley is a graduate of Malden High school and of Bowdoin college, 1912. Mr. Waugh leaves Monday next to accept a position in the Crosby High school, Watertown.

The matter of transportation of the Dazy children, who live on the North Windham road about half a mile from Brick Top road, was left to the transportation committee, with power.

Dr. P. E. Gould reported that he had talked with Principal Harroun in reference to the payment of a sum for the course of study recently published by him, and that the sum of $300 was voted in cash. Nothing was done about the copyright, as the committee felt that in case another issue was advisable a publishing house could do the work reasonably enough.

SODALITAS FAIR.

Congregational Church Society Realizes Good Sum.

The young ladies of the Sodalitas of the Congregational church realized a good sized amount Wednesday afternoon and evening from their fair, held to obtain funds toward fitting up a gymnasium for girls and women of the city in the basement of the church house.

There were two sessions, one at 5:30, the other at 7:30, and a buffet lunch was served. Miss Grace Randall was heard in a number of pleasing recitations, and there was some interesting folk dancing by the young people and a group from the Normal school. At the conclusion of the fair an auction of the remaining eatables at the new sum secured.

Rev. William S. Beard announced that it was planned to start the gym classes, with Miss Pascal of the Normal school as instructor, this week following Easter. There will be three Sodalitas, one for adults, one for girls of the Sodalitas age, and another for girls of 14 or thereabouts. The classes will be open to any resident of the city on payment of the fee.

CHOOSING

THE RIGHT PIANO

One needs to be sure in piano buying. Quality and character count more than price.

And the safest, surest guide to the right piano at the right price is the advertising in a live daily newspaper like The Bulletin.

The names of the representative instruments are all made known through careful, dignified advertising.

The best piano dealers are advertisers — reputable men who back up their word.

Good pianos are not made by advertising. The types merely herald the quality which has already been put there by good materials and sound workmanship.

There is no way in which the advertising in this newspaper can be made more safe than in buying a piano.

Athletic Club Disbands.

The Danielson Athletic club, an organization of young men that has had the rental of Phoenix hall during the fall and winter months has disbanded and given up occupancy of the hall.

Town Repudiates Robb.

William Robb, the man for whom selectmen of the town of Manchester bought a ticket to Danielson that he might return to this town, had not arrived here Wednesday and he will not receive a very cordial welcome if he does appear, seeking to have the town take care of him. Robb is not a resident of this town and is not entitled to be an inmate at the almshouse, where he was permitted to stay for less than a week while his status as a resident was being determined, not for a long time, as stated in Manchester correspondence that has appeared in state papers. Robb was sent to Manchester after he had told the selectmen of Killingly that he had lived in that town for nearly 10 years. He never gained a residence in Killingly.

G. P. A. SMITH COMING.

With Manager Bardo Will Discuss Train Changes With Business Men.

Alfred L. Reed, secretary of the Danielson Business Men's association, received Wednesday a letter from A. B. Smith, general passenger agent of the N. Y. N. H. and Hartford R. R. company, in which Mr. Smith states that with general Manager Bardo he expects to be in Danielson today (Thursday) or Friday for conference relative to the proposed changes in train service through Danielson.

The local business men's association registered an objection to the curtailment of train service with Mr. Smith a few days ago. General Manager Bardo and Mr. Smith will meet the directors of the business men's organization when they come to Danielson and the whole matter of the proposed changes in trains will be gone over.

WEDDING.

Simms-Carpenter.
 Local friends have received announcements of the wedding at Denver, Col., a few days ago of Miss Charlotte M. Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Carpenter, and Harry E. Simms of that city, in which they are to be their home. Mrs. Carpenter and Miss Carpenter went to Denver about three years ago. Up to that time they had been residents of Danielson for a long time.

BURNS UNLOCKED HANDCUFF

Escaped Prisoner Had Made Crude Key from Piece of Corset Steel—No Trace of Runaways.

It appeared Wednesday as if John Burns, the escaped convict, the prisoner that got loose here Tuesday morning, had made an effective escape. That they crossed the state line soon after midnight, Danielson appears to be established, but beyond that little is known as to what became of the two young men who were taken from the general league of wanted wanderers.

Large areas of the state of Rhode Island were covered Tuesday by the Connecticut officers who went out in automobiles to look for the runaways. Woonsocket, Pawcatuck, Chepachet and many other places being visited, but without success. Brown's home is in Woonsocket. It was thought that he might make for that place.

The men were traced eastward toward the Rhode Island border through the Massachusetts section of New Haven. They were seen near the James Burlingame place, heading toward the state border.

When Sheriff Michael Grimshaw, who was not at the car when the prisoners slipped away up Main street, but away for a few minutes on a special mission, in charge of another prisoner, George Brown, said Wednesday that Burns picked the lock of the handcuff that was clasped around his wrist, and that Brown, a slender built young fellow, slid his hand out of the other cuff. The young fellows were sharing a pair of handcuffs.

From information that has come to Burns appears to be the fact that Burns was able to pick the lock of the cuff around his wrist with a little key fashioned from a piece of corset steel that somehow came into his possession. Another one of the group of prisoners has since told the officer that the men had a key made over from Brooklyn Burns worked nearly all of the time at the lock of the cuff with the crudely fashioned key and that it was unlocked when the pair of prisoners were ready to board the electric car Putnam.

A peculiar circumstance in connection with the escape is the fact that

It's the Ford age—the age of dependable and economical transportation. More than four hundred and twenty thousand Fords in worldwide service have changed distance from a matter of miles to a matter of minutes. Buy your Ford Today.

Five hundred dollars is the price of the Ford runabout; the touring car is five fifty; the town car seven fifty—f. o. b. Detroit, complete with equipment. Get catalog and particulars from W. E. Bogue, 372 Main Street.

Burns' two companions in making the break at the store at East Killingly, the crime they were to be charged with at Putnam, received only a sentence of 30 days, and the execution of this was indefinitely suspended, and the young men allowed to go free.

If Burns had had the nerve to face the court, he too would not have been charged with the crime of escaping from officers in Connecticut and Rhode Island and looking for him with a certain punishment coming to him if he is captured. The hue and cry raised over the escape of the prisoners has resulted in more knowledge being gained of their past records and the fact developed that they are wanted in other places, Brown for escaping from a reformatory in Rhode Island.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Edward Doyle Company Stages Two Strong Plays on Wednesday.

At the Orpheum theatre Wednesday the Edward Doyle company played matinee and evening shows. The Mexican Spy, a timely subject, in the afternoon. The Broken Butterfly, a play of the best offerings of the week and one that brings the company success everywhere. The story is one of a young and beautiful woman who is unwarrantably believed herself neglected by her husband and who, goaded by a butterfly, goes to a ball against his wishes, returning with one of her admirers. The scene enacted as the returning couple meet the husband, allowing a demonstration of the fine histrionic ability of members of the Doyle company. Miss Louise Brown in the title role scored another success.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Lyndon T. Tucker.

Mrs. Caroline A. Tucker, widow of Lyndon T. Tucker, died at the home of her son, Edward T. Tucker, Church street, about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mrs. Tucker had been in poor health for some time, but her death came as a surprise.

Mrs. Tucker was born in North Oxford, Mass., July 5, 1844, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Torrey. On October 18, 1865, she was married to Lyndon T. Tucker, who died on April 27, 1898. Edward T. Tucker, engaged in business in this city, is the only child of the couple.
